EXAMPLE (SUBJECTIVE DESCRIPTION)

I walk around my town and I stop when I see the church. It is tiny and old with a chipped wall and a very noisy bell. I remember going there every Sunday morning with my grandmother.

As I go pass the church I get to the main square where some old men, who have lived in the town all their lives, are sitting on a bench just looking at nothing. There, eight trees very old too stand as home for many birds. When I was a little girl, I used to spend every summer afternoon looking at them, listening to their warbling.

In the middle of the square, a tiny fountain made of stone serves to refresh oneself when the weather is as warm as every summer is.

Round a corner, you can see my grandparents’ house with its big, wooden door and its big, wooden windows.

I stand at the door for three seconds, take a deep breath, and walk into.
